WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

HONOLULU, June 14, 1906.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The rainfall was light throughout the section, the greatest amount reported being 2.14 inches. The need of rain is beginning to be felt in several districts.

The total amounts, in inches, in the several districts were: Hawaii—N. Kohala 0.31 to 0.50, Hamakua 0.00 to 0.15, S. Hilo 0.50 to 1.28, Puna 0.70, Kau 0.10 to 2.14, the Kona 1.24 to 1.79; Maui—Makawao 0.55 to 0.97, Hana 0.25 to 1.23, and Waikuku and Lahaina 0.00; Oahu—Koolau-poko 0.14 to 0.30, Honolulu 0.13 to 1.53, and Ewa trace to 1.65; Kauai—Hanalei 0.61, Kawaihau 0.30, Koloa 0.16, and Waimea 0.03; and Molokai 0.49.

The rainfall was below the weekly average of ten or more years at all but two stations. The deficiencies, in inches, in the several districts were: Hawaii—N. Kohala 0.14 to 0.43, Hamakua 0.43 to 0.55, N. Hilo 0.36 to 1.19, S. Hilo 0.36 to 0.56, Puna 0.41, and Kau 0.09; Maui—Makawao 0.25, and Lahaina 0.10; Oahu—Koolau-poko 0.22 to 0.61, Honolulu 0.16 at the lower level, and Ewa 0.14; and Kauai—Hanalei 0.33, and Waimea 0.07. At the upper level of the Honolulu district of Oahu there was an excess of 0.42 inch, and an excess of 0.31 inch in the N. Kona district of Hawaii.

The mean temperatures were higher than those of the preceding week at all but three stations in the section. On Kauai the excesses ranged from 1.7 to 3.2°, on Oahu generally from 1.1° to 2.0° on Maui 0.1° to 0.8°, and Hawaii generally from 0.4° to 2.1°. The mean temperature was 0.4° lower than last week's in southeastern Molokai, and 0.6° lower in the Puna and 0.5° lower in the northern portion of the Hamakua districts of Hawaii.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the group:

	TEMPERATURE.	RAINFALL.
Hawaii	72.6°	0.65 inch.

DRAMA AND MUSIC AT ST. LOUIS COLLEGE HALL

Next Saturday night the students of St. Louis College will offer the public a rare treat of touching drama, rollicking fun and delightful music. The boys have been preparing for some time, and the spirit which they show at their work gives promise of an enjoyable evening to the patrons and friends of the college. If you want to have some good, noble feelings aroused, and enjoy a succession of hearty laughs, then go to the College Hall on the evening of June 19. Tickets may be obtained from the students, at the College, or at the Territorial Messenger service.

SHY ON SUGAR

Both the Hilonian and the Alameda, one departed and the other sailing tomorrow, are carrying smaller cargoes of sugar than they have yet transported. The Hilonian, for the third time in its history, is carrying nothing but raw sugar. Neither of the vessels are shy on passengers, and the accommodations are stretched to their limit.

NO STRIKE SPIRIT AMONG MAUI JAPANESE

(Special to the Bulletin)
Waikuku, June 11, 8 p. m.—The Japanese strike sympathizers held a meeting in Lahaina last night, and organized a Lahaina Strikers' Aid Association, to collect funds with which to help along the cause of the Oahu strikers. Leaders of the movement claim to have a thousand dollars collected or pledged for the relief of strikers on Oahu. The Waikuku sympathizers claim to be sending down a few hundreds of dollars to aid the cause every week. Apparently the attempt to start a strike among the Maui Japanese has been abandoned in favor of collecting funds to aid the Oahu strikers. A delegate was appointed by the meeting to go down to Honolulu tonight by the Mauna Kea.

The night before last Lahaina Japanese held a small meeting, which worked up the larger meeting of last night.

The arrest of Makino and his friends is only looked on by the Japanese as an incident of the strike and is considered nothing important.
